Congratulations on your upcoming wedding, and thank you for considering us for live music for your special day! I know that choosing the perfect music can feel like a daunting task, especially when balancing the excitement of your wedding with managing a budget. That's why I'm here to offer you a personalized, transparent, and flexible experience that caters to your unique needs and vision.

Transparency and Understanding Your Budget

I understand that pricing is one of the most important factors for couples when researching vendors. According to The Knot's 2024 Couples Finance and Budget Report, 50% of couples stop communicating with vendors if prices are out of their budget. That's why I am committed to transparency. I believe that you deserve to know exactly what you're getting for your investment and why live music is such an important part of creating unforgettable memories.

Why Live Music Costs What It Does

Behind every performance, there is a significant amount of preparation. From rehearsing to traveling, setting up sound equipment, and ensuring that every detail of your day is perfect, a lot goes into making sure the music flows seamlessly. I have written a behind-the-scenes blog post about this process, which I encourage you to read here. In it, I break down why we charge what we do and how much time and effort goes into making your event as special as possible.

Customizable Services for Every Budget

One of the most unique aspects of Dennis Winge Music is that we offer a variety of services to fit many different price points and styles. From solo instrumental guitar to high-energy 6-piece party band, we can create a tailored package to match your budget and vision. During our free Zoom consultation, we can discuss your options in detail and find a configuration that works best for you.

Thank you again for considering me for your wedding. I look forward to working with you to create the perfect soundtrack for your special day!
